Anthony Herman, Esquire General Counsel Federal Election Commission 999 E Street, NW Washington, DC 20463

Re: Jamie Wall, Wall for Congress Committee, Wisconsin Jobs Now!, Inc., and Paula Zellner

Dear Mr. Herman:

Pursuant to 2 USC § 437g(a)(1) and 11 CFR § 111.4, please accept this letter as a Complaint against Jamie Wall ("Wall"), Wall for Congress Committee ("Committee"), Wisconsin Jobs Now!, Inc. ("WI Jobs Now!"), the Service Employees International Union ("SEIU") and Paula Zellner ("Zellner") for operating in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the "Act"), as Exhibit #1, and Federal Election Commission ("FEC" or "Commission") regulations, as Ex. #2.

Introduction

Jamie Wall has accepted prohibited corporate contributions in violation of the Act, 2 USC § 441b Contributions by Corporations, and FEC regulations, 11 CFR § 111.4. Wall has accepted an in-kind contribution of the services of his campaign manager, Paula Zellner, from the SEIU and its subsidiary, Wisconsin Jobs Now!

The Act states that "It is unlawful for...any corporation...to make a contribution in connection with any election to any political office..." 2 USC § 441b. Further, it is unlawful "for any candidate...to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section." 2 USC § 441b. One type of contribution is defined as "the payment by any person of compensation for the personal services of another person which are readered to a political committee without charge for any purpose." 2 USC § 431b(8)(ii).

Similarly, FEC regulations har a corporation from making a contribution in connection with any political office, including Federal offices. 11CFR 114.2(a). Further, it is illegal for a candidate to knowingly accept or receive any prohibited contribution. A contribution is defined as "any direct or indirect payment...service, or anything of value." 11CFR 114.2(a).

By accepting this contribution, Wall has violated the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 ("Aet") and Federal Election Commission regulations ("FEC"). Additionally, SEIU & Paula Zellner have violated these same laws.

BACKGROUND

Wall began his campaign for Wisconsin's 8th Congressional district on October 14, 2011. He filed an FEC Form 1, Statement of Organization, and FEC Form 2, Statement of Candidacy. Ex. #3. His authorized principal campaign committee is called "Wall For Congress."

The Services Employees International Union ("SEIU") is a nationwide labor organization. SEIU's Wisconsin office is located at 260 East Highland Avenue, Suite 500, Milwaukee, WI 53202. Wisconsin Jobs Now!, Inc., a subsidiary of SEIU, is a non-stock corporation filed in Wisconsin at its principal office at 260 East Highland Avenue, Suite 500, Milwaukee, WI 53202. Ex. #4.

FACTS

Paula Zellner is a Political Coordinator for the Service Employees International Union ("SEIU") and SEIU's subsidiary, Wisconsin Jobs Now! ("WI Jobs Now!"). Zellner has repeatedly claimed this position over the last two years.

On October 2, 2011, and on May 5, 2012, Zellner listed herself as Political Coordinator for SEIU/WI Jobs Now! in contribution disclosures for two different local elections. Ex. #5. On January 18, 2012, Zellner also disclosed her position with SEIU/WI Jobs Now! in a 2012 Racine Police Department Report. Ex. #6. On June 26, 2011, Zellner was listed as the point of contact for a WI Jobs Now! town hall. Ex. #7. Zellner has been heavily associated with WI Jobs Now! since June 26, 2011.

But, Zallner has also acted as Jamie Wall's Campaign Manager. On October 3, 2011, Zellner listed her occupation as Campaign Manager and her employer as "Wall for Congress" on a Wall For Congress Financial Contribution Disclosure form following a contribution to the Committee. Ex. #8. She was Wall's point of contact for media inquiries starting on October 5, 2011 Ex. #9.

And, she retained her position as Campaign Manager. She remained his point of contact in Committee announcements on Ianuary 18, 2012, February 2, 2012, February 14, 2012, February 29, 2012, and March 3, 2012. Ex. #10. Not only by name, but her personal cell phone number was provided in these press releases as the point of contact along with an official Committee e-mail address directed to Ms. Zellner. Ex. #6 & Ex. #10. Further, Wall reimbursed Zellner for $284.00 on February 29, 2012. Ex. #11. Zellner's first payment was $3,434.55 by the Committee on April 1, 2012, a recorded payroll expense. Ex. #12. According to Wall's disclosures, he did not pay Zellner previously.<sup>2</sup>

Wall's disclosures are accessible via http://www.fec.gov/fecviewer/CandidateCommitteeDetail.do#3 or by going to 1. www.fec.gov/finance/disclosure/candemte_info.shtml, 4. type "Wall for Congress" in the search, Wisconsin for State, and filings under default tab, click his 2012 campaign.

Finally, recent action has been taken by Wall & SEIU to eliminate evidence of this issue. Following an article in the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel on August 5, 2012 the Committee has altered said Committee announcements to remove Zellner's information.

As Zellner was involved with both the Wall campaign and the SEIU/Wisconsin Jobs Nowl organizations at the same time, serious and legitimate questions also arise over potential illegal coordination between the two groups. Further investigation is required. Ms. Zellner's longstanding involvement with Wisconsin Jobs Now! protests make it highly likely that she and Wall campaign individuals were aware and coordinating Wisconsin Jobs Now! protests directed at Representative Reid Ribble, Mr. Wall's political opponent.

FEDERAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN ACT OF 1971

The Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 ("Act") strictly prohibits corporations and labor organizations from making contributions or expenditures in connection with any election to any political office. Ex. #1: 2 USC § 441b(a).

The Act states that "It is unlawful for...any corporation...to make a contribution in connection with any election to any political office..." Further, it is unlawful "for any candidate...to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section." Ex. #1: 2 USC § 441b. One type of contribution is defined as "the payment by any person of compensation for the personal services of another person which are rendered to a political committee without charge for any purpose." Ex. #1: 2 USC § 431b(8)(ii).

The Act defines "contribution" in two ways. First, "contribution" includes "any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office." Ex. #1: 2 USC 431(8)(A)(i). Second, "contribution" includes the "payment by any person of compensation for the personal services of another person which are rendered to a political committee without charge for any purpose." Ex. #1: 2 USC § 431(8)(A)(ii),

FEC REGULATIONS

Federal Election Commission ("FEC") regulations strictly prohibit corporations and labor organizations from making contributions or expenditures in connection with any election to any political office. Ex. #:2: 11 CFR § 114.2(a). Further, it is illegal for a candidate to knowingly accept or receive any prohibited contribution. Ex. #2: 11 CFR § 114.2(d).

A contribution is defined as "any direct or indirect payment...service, or anything of value." Ex. #:2: 11CFR 114.2(a). Further, The FEC regulations similarly prohibit candidates and political committees from "knowingly accepting or receiving" illegal corporate contributions. Ex. #:2: 11 CFR § 114.2(d).

ARGUMENT

Zellner was employed by SEIU/WI Jobs Now! while she was working as Jamie Wall's campaign manager. From June 26, 2011 until May 5, 2012, Zellner listed SEIU/WI Jobs Now! as her employer, was listed as the contact person for WI Jobs Now! events and was listed as an organizer for nt least one WI Jobs Now! protest in police reports. Ex. #5,6,7.

From October 3, 2011 to the present, Zellner listed "campaign manager" as her occupation and "Wall for Congress" Committee as her employer on political contributions and has been listed as the point of contact for the Committee on multiple Committee-issued notices. Ex. #8,9,10,11. For a period of six months, from October 3, 2011, until March 31, 2012, the "Wall for Congress" Committee's FEC reports do not show any disbursements to Zellner for "payroll expenses."

Prosumably, Zellner was being compensated by SEIU/WI Jnbs Now! for the services she was providing the organization. Since Zellner was not receiving compensation for her work as the campaign manager for the Committee, a senior-level position in a campaign and one often requiring considerable amounts of time, it follows that the salary and benefits that she was receiving from WI Jobs Now! are in-kind contributions from SEIU/WI Jobs Now! to Wall and the "Wall for Congress" Committee under the Act and FEC regulations.

As corporations, SEIU/WI Jobs Now! are absolutely prohibited from contributing to the "Wall for Congress" Committee. Zellner and SEIU/WI Jobs Now! made, and Wall and the Committee accepted, prohibited corporate contributions. These contributions are in direct violation of the Act and FEC regulations.

Even if Zellner was not receiving funds from SEIU/WI Jobs Now!, her in-kind contribution has exceeded the $5,000.00 maximum for U.S. Congress. Again, Wall has violated federal law and FEC regulations in accepting this contribution.

Conclusion

Upon information and belief, and based upon the facts relayed herein, Jamie Wall, Wall for Congress Committee, the SEIU, WI Jobs Now! and Paula Zellner have violated the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended, and Federal Election Commission Regulations.

I, with the support of other concerned citizens of Wisconsin, respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation into the violations outlined above and impose the maximum penalty under law. Ex. #13.

- (1) Such national banks and corporations may engage in the activities permitted by 11 CFR part 114, except to the extent that such activity is foreclosed by provisions of law other than the Act.
- (2) The provisions of 11 CFR part 114 apply to the activities of a national bank, or a corporation organized by any law of Congress, in connection with local, State and Federal elections.
- (b)(1) Any corporation whatever or any labor organization is prohibited from making a contribution as defined in 11 CFR part 100, subpart B. Any corporation whatever or any labor organization is prohibited from making a contribution as defined in 11 CFR 114.1(a) in connection with any Federal election.
- (2) Except as provided at 11 CFR 114.10, corporations and labor organizations are prohibited from:

Coordination beyond that described in 11 CFR 114.3 and 114.4 shall not cause subsequent activities directed at the restricted class to be considered contributions or expenditures. However, such coordination may be considered evidence that could negate the independence of subsequent communications to those outside the restricted class by the corporation, labor organization or its separate segregated fund, and could result in an inkind centribution. See 11 CFR 109.16 regarding independent expenditures and coordination with candidates.

It's not every day that members of Congress who want to fight back against the policies of Gov. Scott Walker, state Sen. Alberta Darling, and U.S. Rep. Paul Ryan visit our neighborhood to ask us for directions. But that's exactly what's happening. Give them the direction they need to get our country back on the right track. The focus is on jobs, but it is not difficult to make the connection between public education and good jobs, right?

GREEN BAY, WI.— Jamie Wall today announced his campaign to build a strong future for Wisconsin's Eighth Congressional District. Born and raised on a family dairy farm in northeast Wisconsin, Wall now runs his own small business in Green Bay. He knows first-hand what it takes to bring people together to solve problems, improve the connony, and create jobs.

"I'm running for Congress because I love northeast Wisconsin, and we deserve better than we're getting from Washington," Wall said. "Real people are suffering in this economy, and our politicians are squabbling with each other instead of working together to do what's right for the people who elected them."

"It doesn't have to be this way. We can turn things around, both here in Wisconsin and across the country. But it's going to take leadership that's focused on improving the economy, creating jobs, and protecting the way of life we enjoy here in Wisconsin. We need people in Congress who will find practical ways to preserve Medicare and Social Security instead of working to destroy them. We need to do better. And I believe we

Wall was raised on his family's dairy farm and grew up hunting and fishing with family and neighbors. After graduating as valedictorian of his class at Wrightstown High School, he was the first in his family to go to college. He earned an honors degree in History and Political Science at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and became the first UW student in a generation to win a Rhodes Scholarship. Wall helped establish the northeast Wisconsin economic development organization now known as the New North and has extensive experience helping businesses in Wisconsin and around the country solve complex strategic and operational problems.

AFT-Wisconsin endorses Jamie Wall for Congress

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 2/14/2012

Contact: Paula Zellner at 715-340-6567 or paula@jamiewall.com

Madison, Wis. – AFT-Wisconsin has endorsed Jamie Wall for Congress. Wall is running as a Democrat in Wisconsin's 8th Congressional District. He is challenging the incumbent, Republican Reid Ribble. Wall received the endorsement after completing a candidate questionnaire and participating in a candidate interview conducted by AFT-W Committee on Political Education (COPE) members from across the state.

Wall's candidacy shows early promise, and he has been named to the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee's (DCCC) Red-to-Blue program, an initiative that highlights races where Democrats have a strong chance of taking back seats currently held by Republicans. Wall is one of only 18 candidates to be selected for this highly competitive program, and he is the only candidate from Wisconsin.

AFT-W President Bryan Kennedy sees Wall's candidacy as a chance for the residents of 8th Congressional District to elect a representative they can trust: "Jamie Wall is a respected small business owner, one who will bring his practical experience to bear when fighting to bring jobs to northeast Wisconsin. We can count on him to put patty politics aside and work for the good of working families, rather than for the monied interests that dominate much of Washington politics."

AFT Wisconsin represents 17,000 professional public employees in the State of Wisconsin, including several hundred in the 8th Congressional District.

Rep. Ribble Fights to Bring Back Earmarks He Campaigned Against

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 3/3/2012

Contact: Paula Zellner at 715-340-6567 or paula@iamiewall.com

Green Bay, WI – Last week, Congressman Reid Ribble was caught begging his Republican leaders to find a loop hole for him and allow taxpayer-funded earmarks in a tariff bill. Ribble campaigned against earmarks and even voted to ban them, but he's changed his tune now that he's spent some time in Washington.

"Congressman Ribble should explain why he tells his constituents one thing in northeast Wisconsin and his party leaders another in Washington," said Jamie Wall, candidate for Congress. "We don't need more backroom deals for special interests while the economy continues to struggle and the national debt continues to rise."

Members of Congress use earmarks to spend money while bypassing normal merit-based approval processes. Earmarks often produce bills bulging with wasteful, pork-barrel spending, such as the infamous "Bridge to Nowhere" in Alaska.

Sources: Politico, 4/23/12, "House freshmen: Bring back earmarks"; WisPolitios.com, 4/24/12, "Rihble signs onto letter seeking to easeearmark restrictions"

A Green Bay businessman, Wall helped establish the northeast Wisconsin economic development organization now called the New North, and he brings real-world experience helping Wisconsin businesses solve problems and create jobs.

Democratic congressional candidate Jamle Wall says he wants to put an end to the partisan rancor.

"We can revive our economy and preserve Medicare for future generations," sold Wall, who is trying to unseat-first-term U.S. Rep. Rold Ribble, a Republican from Sherwood. "But it will take a Congress that can work together and get beyond the bitter partisan squabbling we've seen in Washington and Madison."

It's a message that heen't sunk in with Wall's own staff.

Paula Zellmar, who joined Wall's campaign in October, was one of 17 people ticketed in Racine early this year on suspidon of violating a city ordinance against picketing at people's private residences.

The group conducted a demonstration mocking the well-heeled donors attending a fundralser for state Rep. Robin Vos (R-Rochester) - featuring Republican U.S. Rep: Paul Ryan as a guest speaker - at a house. Just off Lake Piichigan in Racine.

The scene got a little crazy.

Here is how the Journal Times in Racine supmarized the situation:

"Some (guests) were elderly and visibly traumatized by the confrontation," according to the police report. A 75-year-old Racine County woman "was trembling and near tears," the report states. "One (protester) kept trying to grab her and force her to have a photograph taken with the group. She said they were mocking her."

Five police squad cars eventually showed up at the scene, and the 17 political limited in similars - limited ing Zellner - were ticketed on suspicion of violating the local ordinance, something that carries a $271.50 fine.

All have pleaded not guilty. A dacision in the case is expected soon.

Zellner - a veteran Wisconsin Democrat - did not return calls to her office and cellphone.

A spokesman for Ribble ripped Wall over his staff er's actions.

"It's troubling that Jamie Wall would support and gondone these offensive ramil-style textics by his staff," said Jon Schmieder, Ribble's campaign manager. "Northeast Wisconsin families expect and deserve better."

Richard Saks, a Miwaukee labor attorney, is representing the protestem on behalf of Wisconsin Jobs Now, a labor-funded organization that sponsored the rally.

Saks said Friday that the ban on residential picketing doesn't apply to this situation.

"The bards was being opened up for a political fundrativer," Sales sold. "The residential picketing ordinance is used, like, to prement anti-abantion pintesters from picketing the home of a destor who does abortions. . . . You're giving people the right to retreat back to their home."

Nicela Loop, an assistant city attorney for Radne, dismisses that argument.

"There is nothing to indicate that this was anything other than a private event at a private dwelling," Loop wrote last month.

Fred Young, who hosted the Vos fundraiser at his Racine house, said he suspected that there might be protesters, given that the January event occurred in the middle of the recall fervor.

His to the control doesn't have a sidewalk in front of in, so these efficients doesn't have a sidewalk in front of in, so these efficient woman had to young's home. Young contended that one particular woman had trouble getting to his house.

"She was in her 70s and a rather frail woman," said Young, a big donor to Republican politicians and a board member for two major conservative think tanks - the Reason Foundation and Cato Institute. "They hassled her. They had a klieg light, taking pictures and mocking her. So there was some harassing of people who are vulnerable, shall we say."

Young said he is eagerly awaiting the judge's decision in the case.

In the meantime, he said he was not surprised that one of the protesters was now running a campaign for a candidate preaching the need for unity.

"I'm an old guy - I've seen a lot," said the 70-year-old businessman. "I guess I'm not shocked."

Identity crisis

A poll spontored by a Madison-based gay-rights group asked Wisconsin respondents last week whether they would vote for Republican Tommy Thompson or Democrat Eric Hovde in a head-to-head matchup.

Oone

Of course, Hovde is - like Thompson - a Republican. They are two of four candidates squaring off in the Aug. 14 GOP primary for an open U.S. Senate seat.

The head of Fair Wisconsin, which is paying for the survey conducted by Mountain West Research in Idaho, placed the blams for the existate on the polister.

"The misidentification of one of the candidates in the survey was purely a mistake on the oart of the vendor, and it has been corrected," said Katie Raisager, executive director of the group.

A Hoyde campaign aide said he believes the mistake was intentional.

*Fair Wisconsin can try and dodge this all they'd like, but nobody believes the validity of an oversight this large,* said spokesman Sean Lansing.

Fair Wisconsin, which unsuccessfully fought a constitutional amendment banning same-sex marriage in 2008, has endorzed U.S. Rep. Taremy Balawin, the only Deroccrat in the Senate race. She is seeking to become the first openly lesion member of the Senate.

Lansing suggested the inaccurate poll question was intended to help Baldwin.

"It is no secret that Tammy Baldwin and the Democrats don't want to face Eric in November, and this disingenuous poll is more proof," he said.

Most statewide polls have shown Movde trailing Baldwin by a few percentage points.

SEIU, Dem SuperPAC Cancel TV Support for Wall Campaign

By Brian Silona

Just days after Media Trackers revealed serious concerns about possible federal campaign law violations on the part of an SEIU front-group and the Jamie Wall for Congress campaign, Roll Call is reporting that the SEIU and a Democrat affiliated SuperPAC are cancelling television advertising buys originally intended to help bourst Wall's campaign. The Media Trackers report highlights a potentially contemparating officering that could cause outside groups to back away from a test compalign.

Paula Zeilner, campaign manager for Wall for Congress, appears to have retained a position of influence with Wisconsin Jobs Now! (an SEIU front-group) months after she joined the Wall campaign in October of 2011. As a third-party group that was conducting activities designed to help Wall and reduce support for his Republican opponent, Wisconsin Jobs Now! was prohibited by federal law from coordinating its activities with the Wall campaign. Campaign finance reports, police reports and social media accounts all show that Zeilner was working for both the failed-party group and the campaign, a clear violation of federal election law.

None of the parties intolved wealth communition or denythe information Media Trackets ununvered. Telk radio in Gesen Baydid pink up the story and it is not dissert if the Wall compaign tess responded to pass inquicies about the issue.

Third-party groups have become more powerful in recent election cycles helping to expand the map of competitive races and stretch the spending power of party and candidate committees by reinforcing their message. Federal law strictly bern these outside groups from coordinating with the campaigns they are seeking to assist.

For the SELI and the Hosek Majurity PAC to causel roughly $360,000 month of intertains and an unit that the Wolf campaign will need to botate its own firminging and media strategy to make in for the leatouspart. For now the Democratic Congressional Campaign Cammittee will be proceeding with its takingsion and buy that, according to Rolf-Call, is scheduled to start on October 9th.

Is Wis. Media Silent On Jamie Wall Campaign

Here's an expanding story from Media Trackers and something that was talked about on The Jerry Bader Show at WTAQ 1360 Green Bay. From the main story that most in the media is not covering we now see the Wall campaign is losing TV support. Why would that be?

SEIU, Dem SuperPAC Cancel TV Support for Wall Campaign

By: Brian Sikma

Just days after Media Trackers revealed serious concerns about possible federal campaign law violations on the part of an SEIU front-group and the Jamie Wall for Congress campaign, Roll Call is reporting that the SEIU and a Democrat affiliated SuperPAC are cancelling television advertising buys originally intended to help boost Wall's campaign. The Media Trackers report highlights a potentially embarrassing situation that could cause outside groups to back away from a toxic campaign.

Paula Zellner, campaign manager for Wall for Congress, appears to have retained a position of influence with Wisconsin Jobs Now! (an SEIU front-group) months after she joined the Wall campaign in October of 2011. As a third-party group that was conducting activities designed to help Wall and reduce support for his Republican opponent, Wisconsin Jobs Now! was prohibited by federal law from coordinating its activities with the Wall campaign. Campaign finance reports, police reports and social media accounts all show that Zellner was working for both the third-party group and the campaign, a clear violation of federal election law.

None of the parties involved would comment on or deny the information Media Trackers uncovered. Talk radio in Green Bay did pick up the story and it is not clear if the Wall campaign has responded to press inquiries about the issue.

The main story that was never picked up was the possible federal campaign law violations. Now we see democrat Jamie Wall who is running for the Wisconsin's 8th Congressional district is getting free advertising pulled from his friends over at the SEIU and Dem SuperPacs. Possible federal campaign law violations, come on, no way! We have to wonder why the rest of the media is not reporting this story or the original? Could it be they are trying to protect a democrat? If this was Reid Ribble, it would be front page, breaking news for seven days straight. Believe it or not, this story has been out there for seven days.

Media is silent again. Move along, nothing here to see!
